You will notice in your child's weekly homework packet that the math sheets are no longer included. Because the Investigations program is more hands on, many activities will be done at school. However, most days your child will have homework. What and how much will depend on what he or she finishes in class. If they need more practice in a specific area some form of independent work will be sent home. If they have mastered the activity they may not have homework. Please ask them because more often than not they will be bringing something home to work on.

Thank you to those parents who were able to send in treasure box donations! The children really appreciate it.
